that they would counting to protect our fugitive property in the same manner when all taw for it should by our own act be done away and when they and we should be of different and necessarily galous and hostile nationalities, is too ground, too julpably, too monarrously reconstrous, to be entertained for a single noment by any uncacited man removed one degree from natural islocy.

The fact that our really able neighbor of the Courier can get his own consent to resort to arguments and assumptions so very alsured shows how important to elected with the courier can get his own consent to resort to arguments and assumptions so very alsured shows how important the deems it, in his attempt at convincing the people of Kentucky that their true policy is secession, to make them think that secession would not interfere with read its many that secession of the fact that our really allocated accounts the beding among the beding among the service of the convincing the people of Kentucky that their true policy is secession, to make them think that secession would not interfere with read its minute and to it interfere with read its minute and to its interfere with read its minute and to its interfere with read its minute and to it interfere with read its minute and to its interfere with read its minute and to it interfere with read its minute and to its interfere with read it slave. Any free State citient, who should do such a thing in the absence of any law for it except the law 1 the strong arm, would, even though the relations of the law of the Swiss Conf fe any fourteen years ago, refuse two to overnments might be those of peace, be g. ly, in the eyes of his fellow-citizens, of a most revolting crime, rendering lemself the oper of the parties. Let them maintain this wise and ucle position. Livery consideration, of interest, of safet, of sa tre. Nor would that be all or half—be would inevitably be indicted and pun-shed for illegally seizing and depriving men of their Florty.

And not only would there be no law for the the position cannot be maintained. The wish of these madcaps is father to the thought where would be the severest emertments against it, emertments that we like rigidly cafforeed. Let the Border Slave saw, how proceed by the flugitive slave law, and the position of the gravity, will not challenge the position and solven, and we are substance all comes on with it on accounts of slavery, and take their place in a Government foreign to it, an every free State would instantly, whether in war or peace, pass a "personal liberty law" making the rend in of a fagivity slave to bendage a pententiary of the rail, can a fagivity slave to bendage a pententiary of the rail, at the certainly would and some free States should, at the certainly would and some ree States should, at the certainly would and some ree States should, at the certainly would and some ree States should, at the certainly would and some ree States should, at the certainly would and some ree States should, at the certainly would and some ree States should, at the certainly would and some ree States should, at the certainly would and some ree States should, at the certainly would and some ree States should, at the certainly would and some ree States should, at the certainly would and some ree States should, at the certainly would and some ree States should, at the certainly would and some ree States should.
